MYTH 2

SAAS IN THE CLOUD

Security of a cloud-based platform is unproven.

● ○ ● ● ●

Myth Debunked: Security of a SaaS platform is unproven.

Data security is a top concern. And rightly so. A common myth that's starting to unfurl is that software-as-a-service (SaaS) platform is unproven.

How do we prove that it's proven? You've probably already engaged with a SaaS solution several times today. Web-based email services like Outlook, Yahoo, Gmail are all SaaS services. So if you trust your email, you can trust IDScLOUD™ – a true SaaS provider.

Our SaaS expert, Lisa Nowak, talked with ABL Advisor earlier this year to debunk this myth (among others).

Learn what security questions you should ask your SaaS provider and how Solifi handles security in the cloud.
